

Providing Your Family With All The Advantages In Life — It's A Way Of Life At Parkside

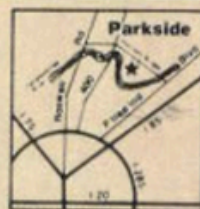

You're young, successful and on your way up in life. You want to enjoy life now with your family while you both are growing. You want a home with ample room for the children. An affordable home priced from the low $70's and up that combines exceptional value with distinctive styling. A home that is both a hedge against inflation and your personal tax shelter. You want the security and safety of a neighborhood where your children can walk to a nearby elementary school, play supervised team sports, or ride bikes along off-street trails. You want to unwind after work by playing a couple of sets of tennis on lighted courts. You want to hike through the woods or picnic with your family beside the scenic Chattahoochee. You want to enjoy the convenience of being located within minutes of the perimeter, Sandy Springs, and Dunwoody. You want Parkside — where providing your family with all the advantages is a way of life.
